

Barb Monson

EVENT SPEAKER &
LEADERSHIP CONSULTANT

About me

Barb is a former CFO who now helps leaders navigate today's weird workplace, often bringing unconventional solutions to the table.

She commits to delivering practical application in every talk, leaving the audience equipped for implementation and not just education.

But don't let her finance background fool you... Barb loves to have FUN! She'll bring energy, humor, and storytelling to your audience and leave them feeling inspired and equipped to take on their biggest challenge!

POPULAR TOPICS

- Not Your Mama's Goal Setting
- Help! My Best Employee Wants to Leave!
- Solo But Together: Cracking the Code of the Disconnected Team
- Sending Annual Employee Objectives to the Corporate Graveyard
- Smashing Superwoman Syndrome
- Leading with Confidence: Building Your Path to Managerial Mastery

DON'T SEE WHAT YOU WANT? ASK ME ANYWAY!

"Barb spoke to my group about bridging the gap between employees and the leadership team.

She was engaging and funny. She honed in on how to communicate in a way that is respectful of boundaries, brought out insightful ways to feel seen and heard (on both sides of the coin) and helped unify the workplace.

Would definitely recommend hiring Barb for your next event!"

- Wendy B. (event host)

Testimonies

"She just blew my mind. And she was funny! She had all of us on the edge of our seat. We were leaning in, we were engaged, and everyone was really feeling it. I highly recommend you bring Barb in for your team, too."

- Alexis C. (audience member)

"Barb is an incredibly passionate and connected speaker. She knows how to read a room and work a room.

I saw her speak in July 2023 and her perspective on goal-setting was so valuable. As someone who resists "SMART" goal-setting, Barb's talk made me feel like I could still set goals in a way that would work for ME.

I highly recommend you hire Barb for your next corporate event, conference or event. She's incredible!"

-Sara D. (audience member)