

Biography of Anthony Pappas

Anthony Pappas is the office manager at a healthcare facility in Fort Collins, CO. He is a Norwich University alum, and his background in political science and strategic studies has prepared him to oversee complex clinic operations and enhance patient care systems with a strategic approach.

His pursuit of excellence knows no bounds. In 2024, he acquired a Clinical Medical Assistant License through Advanced eClinical Training, simultaneously embarking on Ph.D. program applications in international development/security at prestigious UK universities. Additionally, he eagerly anticipates a humanitarian mission to Guatemala in May 2024, underscoring his unwavering commitment to global betterment.

His thirst for knowledge is complemented by an adventurous spirit. A lifelong enthusiast of skiing, martial arts, backpacking, and camping, his intellectual pursuits extend to astrophysics, climate change, and international security and relations.

His dedication transcends professional boundaries. Volunteering with Adaptive Sports, the Humane Society, and Special Olympics Vermont, alongside annual contributions to the Colorado Firefighter Association, epitomizes his steadfast commitment to community engagement and positive societal impact.

In May 2024, he eagerly awaits his humanitarian mission to Guatemala, a testament to his unwavering dedication to serving others professionally and personally.

From an inquisitive political science enthusiast to an accomplished office manager and researcher, Anthony Pappas embodies adaptability, dedication, and persistence. With ambitious endeavors on the horizon and an unwavering commitment to service, he is poised to continue positively impacting the world.

Anthony Pappas

anthonypappas97@gmail.com (970) 759-7555 LinkedIn: Anthony Pappas

Goals/Mission Statement

To help those in need through the examination and implementation of robust international developmental and security policy. In combining knowledge of physical and economic security strategies, soft power trends, and humanitarian objectives, I hope to bring comprehensive solutions to today's global emergent crises.

Employment History

Office Manager 2021 – Present

Care For You LTD.

- __Managing patient database and medical charts
- __Enforcing federal and state regulatory compliance
- __Scheduling appointments and procedures
- __Providing front line customer service
- __Maintaining medical supplies inventory
- __Constructing and maintaining website

Clinical Intake Specialist 2019–2021

Veterans Evaluation Service

- Analyzed and evaluated veteran disability claims
- Scheduled and admitted veterans for medical specialists
- Performed preliminary medical examinations and identification checks

Lead Intern 2018-2019

US National Defense University

- Assisted in training and management of foreign defense personnel
- Authored official correspondence between top international and interagency staff
- Built and managed Department of Defense database
- Headed of ISMO transportation and authored transportation policy
- Led procurement policy initiatives

Education

MA in Strategic Studies

2021–2023

Norwich University: The Military College of Vermont

- Instruction in national defense strategy, military strategy, maritime strategy, logistics, cross-agency cooperation, diplomatic powers, international relations, macroeconomics, and soft-power analyses
- Deep analysis of contemporary and historical security environments
- Practicums in comparative analysis and policy writing
- Familiarity with agency/department-specific language

Graduate Certificate: Washington Semester Program

2018-2019

American University

- Foreign Policy Extended-Studies Program: Summa Cum Laude
- Frequent interaction with foreign powers, NATO, UN, NGOs, and thinktanks
- In depth analysis of international security policy, humanitarian crises, and national defense

BA in Political Science

2015–2019

Norwich University: The Military College of Vermont

- US and China in Asia Program, Singapore
 - Research for China's Grand Strategy: Weaving a New Silk Road to Global Primacy (2019) by Dr. Sarwar Kashmeri
 - Authored foreign policy recommendations for US diplomats in Singapore
 - Attended 17th Asia Security Summit: IISS Shangri La Security Dialogue
- Security Policy Program, Washington D.C.
 - Conducted intensive security policy simulation at State Department
 - Honored in Assistant Secretary of State McCarthy's inauguration speech
 - Interviewed 4-Star General of US Cyber Command and NSA
- Corps of Cadets
 - Cadet Corporal - Academic Mentor
 - Cadet Staff Sergeant - Squad Leader/ Sergeant First Class- Platoon Sergeant
 - Meritorious awards
- Navy ROTC
 - Squad Leader
 - Strategy, tactics, and leadership courses
 - Firearm & unit-based tactical training
- Teams and Clubs:
 - Norwich Shooting Association, Advanced Jujitsu Team, Political Science Club, Golden Anchor Society (BUD/S Prep), Chinese Club
- Volunteer work:
 - Special Olympics Vermont, Vermont crisis relief, Adaptive Sports Association

Certifications & Specializations

Certified Clinical Medical Assistant Clinical eMedical Training	Present
Certification: Operational Research for Humanitarians University of Geneva	2023
Specialization: Cybersecurity in Homeland Security Colorado University	2023
Certification: Certified Network Defender EC-Council	2020

Projects, Appearances & Achievements

“China’s Grand Strategy: Weaving a New Silk Road to Global Primacy” 2019

- Research foundational to book published in 2019 by Dr. Sarwar Keshmiri

US State Department National Security Simulation 2019

- Conducted comprehensive national security crisis simulation against opposition force of top security professionals
- Worked closely with mentors from FBI, NSA, NCTC, CDC, DHS, DOD, and DOS

Honored by Assistant Secretary of State Hellen McCarthy 2019

- Present at inauguration Assistant Secretary of State for Intelligence Hellen McCarthy

Participation in 17th Asia Security Summit: IISS Shangri La Security Dialogue 2018

- Among the most influential international security gatherings of the 21st century
- Meetings and audiences with world’s leading professional

Special Skills

- Advanced Research
- Advanced Writing
- Field Study
- Foreign Languages
- SPSS
- MS Access and MS Office Suite