

Biography of Bradley Kabbash

A Team Expedition Leader & Explorer in Hartford, CT, USA

Bradley Kabbash

Over the course of 40 months, Bradley traveled over 100,000 miles across each state in the United States, solidifying his reputation as an overland expert.

Bradley Kabbash is the living embodiment of open-mindedness and the unwavering pursuit of knowledge. As a father to three daughters and a brother to three siblings, his life unfolds as a captivating tapestry woven with diverse experiences and transformative journeys. Over his illustrious 40-year career as an investment banker, he explored more than 20 nations, immersing himself in the vibrant tapestry of cultures, languages, and histories, some of which have faded into the annals of geopolitical change.

Career History

Bradley witnessed the crucible of the first Gulf War during his extensive career. This intense experience ignited his passion for writing, leading to insightful articles chronicling his time in Kuwait before, during, and after the war. However, this public display of his writing talent was just the tip of the iceberg. In the private sanctum of his life, he cultivated a profound passion for writing, culminating in completing 22 unpublished books, with two now under consideration for publication. His literary repertoire spans a broad spectrum of genres and styles, underscoring his flexible and creative mind and his unwavering commitment to the craft.

Bradley Kabbash

His experiences spawned his upcoming book publication titled “Interstate Of Mind”, a poignant narrative about the diverse people he came across and their inspiring, heartbreaking stories.

Explorations and Journeys

At 58, Kabbash embarked on an entirely new and exhilarating endeavor - overlanding. Following a cross-country road trip in a modified jeep and trailer, he was instantly captivated by the thrill of exploration. Over 40 months, he traversed over 100,000 miles, crisscrossing each state in the United States, solidifying his reputation as an overland expert. These remarkable experiences gave rise to his forthcoming book, "Interstate Of Mind," a poignant narrative that delves into the diverse people he encountered and their inspiring, heart-touching stories.

Hobbies and Passion

For him, Overlanding transcends mere pastime; it is a means to disconnect from society's noise, gather enriching encounters, and perpetuate his insatiable quest for knowledge. Concurrently, his writing serves as both mental stimulation and a creative outlet, enabling him to express his adventures vividly.

Bradley Kabbash

This multifaceted explorer, writer, and philanthropist has led an extraordinary life defined by ceaseless learning and open-mindedness.

Philanthropic Endeavors

In alignment with his compassionate spirit and profound sense of social responsibility, Bradley Kabbash recently established the Darien Gap Foundation, a testament to his open-mindedness and profound desire to impact the world positively.

This multifaceted explorer, writer, and philanthropist has led an extraordinary life defined by unwavering dedication to learning and open-mindedness. Bridging his distinguished career in investment banking, bold forays into overlanding, and insatiable curiosity, Bradley epitomizes the boundless diversity and adaptability of the human spirit. His life story is a testament to his unwavering commitment to learning, his indomitable spirit of exploration, and his steadfast dedication to forging a unique path in the world.