

Brian Madrid

Entrepreneur | Hypnotist | Brain Science Expert

Professional men and women are facing increasingly challenging issues that require difficult decisions. Entrepreneur, hypnotist, and brain science expert, Brian Madrid, create an interactive experience that will inspire, educate and entertain your audience. They will learn three of the most powerful business ideas that the top 10% of high performers use that help create an effective decision-making framework, become stronger leaders, and fuel creativity, productivity, and performance.

Brian customizes each experience based on your needs and connects with your audience on an emotional level with interactive psychological demonstrations throughout the presentation that drives home the three business techniques. This ground-breaking approach allows the audience to be a part of their own live experiment and instantly see the possible in the impossible.
