

Gary Sinclair

Gary is an inspiring, compelling and practical speaker who knows how to get an audience's attention with his very first words.

He combines humor, stories, real illustrations and doable takeaways that your audience will start to use the same day.

He is the director and founder of Never Quit Climbing, an organization and website that provides inspiration and practical help for those trying to overcome personal mountains and challenges.

He is also a leadership trainer, coach, author and motivational speaker, helping businesses and churches develop more effective and impacting leaders.

PRAISE FOR GARY:

"Gary Sinclair nailed it with Never Quit Climbing. I was blessed with the opportunity to hear him in person while visiting my son in Indiana. . ." S. Dallas.

"Though I am not a mountain climber, I enjoyed how the author related the principles of mountain climbing to scaling the challenges of life. The book is both delightful and helpful." Ron M.

"His many years of consoling couples must have given him extra insight in married life at its worst and others just needing that extra help." Joyce P.

SPEAKING TOPICS:

Never Quit Climbing

Everyone faces a personal mountain, an Everest, at some point in life. But big problems either push us forward or paralyze. In both his talk and book, Gary provides lessons learned above tree line, in the mountains of granite, that can help people face even the biggest of challenges.

As Gary likes to say, "The view from the top is worth it." Your group or team will learn how to best conquer their mountains and be true overcomers!

Taking Your Leadership To a New Level

Lots of people try to lead, but not everyone acquires followers. That's usually because people have never been taught to grow as a leader. To do so may look different than you think! Find out how!
