Focus on the 5th Question™

Why do 85% of business leaders believe in-person and virtual events are essential to their company's success? One word - networking. Yet we often aren't getting past the small talk to build real relationships.

In this engaging and entertaining keynote, Gina Glover leads attendees on a journey to not only uncover but to master the 5th Question™. She helps people move beyond the mundane networking conversations to the connections that build relationships.

"Gina's session was very engaging and interactive which kept things moving and fun. Very useable information that can be put to use right away."

~ Jennifer Mell, CMP, Project Manager – Meetings/Event at Travel Leaders Corporate

"Great insights for planners to consider when designing events that include networking as a part of the event."

~ Beth Schnabel, Director of Strategic Events at Community Financial Credit Union

Networking Success: Helpful Hacks to Cultivate Conversations

We tend to think of the process of networking in the moment while we are physically (or virtually) present at a conference or event. But there are important steps to take before AND after to ensure you get the most out of your experience. This interactive workshop will set you up for networking success again and again.

Winning Teams: Leadership Lessons from a High School Cross-Country Coach

It is one of the oldest, must under-appreciated and often-overlooked sport. It is also the only sport where all team members are performing the same task at the same time in pursuit of the same goal. This workshop-format presentation is chock full of leadership lessons and may just motivate you and your team to sign up for your first 5k.

Dial Up Your Influence: Specific Strategies that Stick

Whether you consider yourself an influencer or not, we all have an influence on those around us, and this workshop delves into some specific strategies to dial up your influence – with your colleagues, customers and community.

"Gina's energy level and engaging style will leave your program attendees wanting more."

HERE'S WHAT AUDIENCES HAVE TO SAY

"Gina is a very energetic and interactive speaker and you should consider scheduling her for your next event! Communication is Key to networking and building relationships."

~ Dawn Miller, SHRM-CP, Human Resources Manager,
Coakley Brothers & Brothers Interiors

"Gina is an enthusiastic speaker and knows how to keep an audience engaged. I left her presentation excited to take what I learned about building relationships, taking care of my team and motivating others so I can apply it to the volunteer and professional teams I lead."

~ Paul Freiberg, Operations Manager, Amcor

"My biggest take-away from Gina's session was to think about, and plan for, my 5th Question. The first four are the easy ones, the ones that you can get through with anyone...but it's planning ahead and being able to sustain the conversation that requires a little more prep work."

~ Cristi Burrill, Organizational & Talent Development Lead,
Oshkosh Corporation

"Gina engaged her audience from start to finish providing practical ways to engage in conversation – even the most difficult ones – with leadership and grace."

~ Sheree Yates, Sr. Director of Human Resources,
Educational Credential Evaluators, Inc.
