The Founder

K-12 Spanish Language Edutainer,
Professional Development Facilitator,
Linguistic Anthropologist & Bilingual Activist

Jessie Feliz is an energetic and passionate educator with 15+ years of classroom experience in both the United States and in Costa Rica. She loves teaching Spanish and empowering young people (especially Black American Youth) that they, too can become bilingual, study and work abroad or stateside using their bilingualism as a tool for unlocking opportunities, otherwise unknown.

Jessie equally loves facilitating professional learning experiences for educators from all content areas and she loves working with children. As Jessie actively seeks to address the inequities that are interwoven within the status quo of conventional learning environments, she is on a mission to help accelerate teacher effectiveness and strengthen the connections they make with the students they teach.

Learning and teaching can and should be fun, engaging, rigorous AND standards-based all at the same time! Book Jessie Feliz today as we learn, laugh and grow together!

Indelibly valuable perspective that is not front and center nearly enough!

The speaker was very approachable and down to Earth!

Excellent presentation. Loved all the examples from Jessie's real "teacher" life and the techniques and strategies she shared for classroom management and student engagement. Very dynamic workshop. I learned a lot about the "Alphas" Generation.
