Brain Science Secrets to Communicating with Creativity and Poise:

Inspiring Connection and Influence During High-Stakes Conversations.

50-minute keynote suitable for professionals

Learn to stay poised, access your highest creativity, and inspire meaningful collaboration: no matter how nerve-wracking the situation is!

Today's stressed-out, multi-tasking, technically evolving workplace can be challenging. It can be particularly tricky when presenting complex data, solving thorny problems, or addressing faulty assumptions.

Fortunately, we can make easy changes to improve our mental states and communication effectiveness.

In this highly actionable presentation, we will learn how to re-direct unsettled feelings into a flow-state that inspires innovation and improves genuine communication.

We will explore the science of body language, voice tone, and micro expressions and how they can subconsciously convey meaning and either inspire or repel connection and respect.

Finally, we will explore how perspective-taking and imagination exercises can help us reduce conflicts and stressful situations at work and add more fun to our lives, both professionally and personally.

Client Feedback

Mari is fantastic, she knows her subject inside out, she is engaging, and she has a creative and fun approach to illustrating key points.

---Paul Tester, Communications Director - Global Quality & Compliance: Roche

Mari Geasair is one of the most engaging presenters I've experienced in my years of hosting educational events.

Not only did she provide unique content that I hadn't heard many times over, but she creates an environment of safety and connection for guests that gets them excited to participate. It's clear that Mari is an expert in her niche.

---Krystal Covington, Chief Marketing Officer: GO Lead, Founder: Women of Denver, TEDX Speaker

Mari's presentations are grounded in credible research. She is engaging, and most importantly, she provides practical advice for immediate implementation.

As a neuroscientist, I particularly appreciate her ability to be inspiring and enjoyable without sacrificing accuracy.

Mari Geasair Bio

Ms. Geasair has been helping leaders and high achieving professionals increase their influence since 1999.

She focuses on freeing professionals from unhelpful habits and outdated assumptions that make effective communication difficult to achieve and stressful to maintain.

Her work is grounded in organizational communication, business development, the neuroscience of peak performance, speech physiology, and live theatre performance.

Mari Geasair is co-founder of the Athena Leadership Council and CEO of Prism Impact.

She is a member of the National Speakers' Association a RLMC Certified Voice Coach, a Certified Voice Recovery and Stamina Specialist, and a Certified Virtual Host.

Her academic background includes Theatre Arts at Colorado University and Meisner Technique at the prestigious Freehold Studio of Seattle WA. Mari is also a CTP graduate of Coach University.

I have had the pleasure of watching Mari Geasair's keynote presentations many times. I've also had the joy of working with her as a theatrical director and actor for over a decade.

What impresses me most is her profound connection to both art and audience. Whether working with a small group of professionals on a highly technical training, or performing comedy for an outdoor audience of thousands, she always finds a way to connect, inspire and engage.
