

Transformational Speaker and Resilience Coach

Melanie A. Nix, triple negative breast cancer survivor, uses her endowments as a storyteller, coach, and celebrator to bring joy and fulfillment to the lives of everyone she touches. The chief visionary of Diagnosis to Destiny, she shares lessons learned surviving cancer that can pave the road from diagnosis to destiny. Melanie is a multimedia storyteller who uses a variety of media to share her uplifting and inspiring story as well as deliver illuminating messages. On live and virtual stages, she is the quintessential storyteller whose candor and strength are hallmarks of her timeless messages. She is the cofounder of Breast Cancer Comfort Site. In addition to her dedicated social media following, she has been profiled by several media outlets including CURE Magazine, earning invitations to the Obama White House and Biden Vice President's Residence.

Melanie's cancer survival ignited her resilience coaching. She became a post cancer distance runner whose #Exercising4MyLife campaign highlights the health and wellness benefits of running and offers lessons on training and discipline. She is a celebrator of life and milestones big and small. A movie and music lover, she enjoys travel and appreciates the serenity of being oceanside. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Virginia and an MBA from the Robert H. Smith School of Business – University of Maryland, College Park. Melanie resides in the Washington, DC area with her favorite celebration crew, husband, Raymond; son, Carter; and daughter, Kennedy. Blessed with a fun-loving family and over a decade of survival, she continues to live unapologetically with lots of champagne toasts...because she can!
