BUILD STRONGER WORKPLACE RELATIONSHIPS WITH CONFLICT INTELLIGENCE

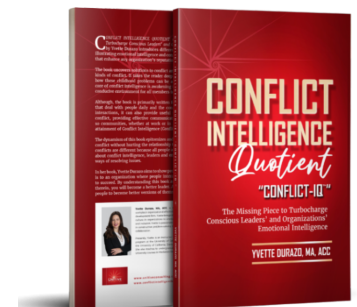

Conflict- IQ™ is a leadership skill to possess in today's workplace atmosphere. A leader's ability to hold a safe space for difficult conversations is essential to the health of an organization and its members. The lack of conflict intelligence among leadership can be costly to both the financial bottom line and the culture of the organization. A toxic work environment affects performance.

AUDIENCE TAKEAWAYS

- Developing self-awareness for improved conflict resolution and de-escalation.
- Building confidence navigating difficult conversations.
- Mastering the valuable role of emotional intelligence and conflict intelligence, in leadership.
- Fostering an inclusive work environment, equaling superior talent retention.

TESTIMONIALS

Babiya Polk, VP of DEI of HRACO

“ Yvette Durazo spoke at our annual DEI and leadership HRACO conference in Columbus, Ohio. The takeaways I got from her were to feel confident when addressing difficult conversations, to be able to have a more productive communication with our staff, and to learn to coach others into communicating their issues at work. Lastly, to augment my conflict intelligence with techniques that will work in any situation.

I recommend having Yvette speak on Leadership in DEI topics. She brings the most relevant data to validate her content and keep the audience captivated. ”

Elena V. Chudnovskaya, PH.D., M.B.A., M.A., Professional Communication Department College of Media, Texas Tech University and InterNation Leadership Speakers Presenter

“ It is my great pleasure to provide high recommendations to Yvette Durazo, MA, PCC. I am a Consul of a Global Business Networking group at a global ex-pat professional network, Yvette presented to a global audience of over 350 members about her most recent authored book, Conflict Intelligence Quotient (Conflict-IQ™). Yvette presented with authority as a subject expert in her field, and her style was very informative and interactive. The event was highly ranked by the attendees. ”
