

NATHANIEL A. TURNER, JD, MALS
AUTHOR. ENTREPRENEUR. ACTIVIST.

Nathaniel A. Turner is the author of multiple books, including the history-making Raising Supaman. Countless numbers of people have been empowered by Turner's books, videos, speeches, and training programs.

So that his child might be intellectually astute, globally competent, and socially conscious, Nate intentionally backward designed his son's life. Today those tools, techniques, and strategies which were initially specifically created for his son are educational and life development staples for people all over the country.

Turner holds multiple degrees, ranging from Accounting (Bachelors), History & Theology (Masters), and Law (Juris Doctor). The diversity of his formal education combined with a wide range of personal experiences and professions make him a modern-day renaissance man.

Nate has been privileged to speak at some of America's top universities and corporations. His story and work have touched the lives of educators and students of all ages. Business, government, and community leaders value his out-the-box perspective. Parents and guardians count on him for genuine and timely counsel.

When this "Humanity Propulsion Engineer's" time on the planet is up, Nate hopes to be remembered simply as a man who did his best to leave the world better than it was when he arrived.
