WHAT CLIENTS ARE SAYING ABOUT PAMELA

“

In the months I worked with Pamela in our one-to-one coaching sessions, she significantly transformed my executive presence. Focusing on my content, delivery and how I dressed impacted my overall confidence and presentation delivery.

I moved away from the typical presentation opening of 'who we are and what we do', to opening with issues, concerns, and challenges relevant to the client which got them to sit up and take notice. It was truly revolutionary and changed my perspective on presenting to clients and prospects.

Ultimately my transformation was acknowledged when a recent presentation to corporate headquarters was rated within the top three presentations out of over 100 entries from my peer salesmen all over the world. Moreover, I found it fulfilling as I had the chance to practice what I'd learnt in a real business setting when my company was asked to participate in several final pitches.

With my new skillset I continue to make inroads in my business development and client acquisition with greater confidence thanks to Pamela's guidance."

Anselmo Park,

Pamela was recommended to me by a colleague who was impressed with her approach. We focused on delivering an effective memorable message for an industry summit and preparation for a media interview.

Based on the feedback I received for the various forums I presented to, working with Pamela was a great investment. This success was due to how Pamela personalised the coaching she provided. Thanks Pamela."

I want to shout out a big thank you to Pamela for a brilliant display of awesomeness and mastery at a conference I recently organised. Pamela owned the stage from the moment she stepped up, to the time she chose to exit, and feedback was excellent.

If you need some-one on topic; Pamela is that person who will make the organizers look brilliant."
