Paul Daugerdas has had an illustrious professional journey, holding significant positions in esteemed organizations within the financial, legal, and accounting sectors. His career began at Arthur Andersen & Co., where he started as a staff member, worked his way up to become a manager, and eventually became a partner in 1984. During his tenure from 1974 to 1994, Daugerdas played a vital role as a member of the Mergers, Acquisitions & Reorganizations Tax Specialty Team, showcasing his expertise in M&A. Additionally, he served as the Head of the Central Region Financial Markets Team, overseeing both tax and audit personnel who dealt with various financial markets, including commodities, futures, stocks, bonds, swaps, and a wide range of over-the-counter financial instruments and products. Furthermore, Daugerdas assumed the position of the head of the Chicago Office "On Call" Team and contributed as a member of the Financial Valuation Services Specialty Team during his time at Arthur Andersen & Co.

In 1994, Daugerdas embarked on a new chapter in his career by joining the Law Offices of Altheimer & Gray as a partner. He took on the role of Head of the Tax Department and became an invaluable member of the Steering Committee. From 1999 to 2002, Daugerdas served as a Shareholder/Partner at the Law Offices of Jenkens & Gilchrist, where he managed the Chicago office and co-directed the Tax Practice. His contributions extended to the Management Advisory Committee during his tenure at Jenkens & Gilchrist, showcasing his exceptional business acumen.

In 2003, Daugerdas ventured into a new endeavor as a consultant and managing director at Treasurex Financial, where he provided his expertise until 2014. Presently, Daugerdas is in home confinement, continuing to contribute to his field.
