About Roshini

Roshini is a personal brand strategist and presence engineer. She hosts News & Views with Roshini Rajkumar on CBS Radio on Sundays.

When she's not on the air, Roshini is an executive coach, keynote speaker and event emcee. She draws on more than thirty years of public speaking, a career as a television news reporter and anchor and her status as a licensed attorney to get her clients ready for high-stakes communication endeavors and powerfully engineer their personal brands.

She takes real-life examples to the stage for lively keynotes and change-making break-out sessions—always leaving attendees with practical information to use in their own lives, immediately.

CLIENTS RAVE

"Roshini was such a pleasure to work with as our conference emcee! Pre-planning is so important and having an emcee that responds promptly, professionally, and is flexible is so important."

-Nikole Fridenmaker Director of Events, ACMP Global

"Roshini had sharp commentary about the NBA's Donald Sterling mega-scandal. She's articulate, informed and has great anecdotes to illustrate effective damage control once a media disaster hits page one and goes viral. Her advice may save you a few hundred million dollars!"

-Bill Macintosh Producer, Bill Martinez Live

"Roshini's IAP™ Formula really works. Her Communicate That! book is a must-read for anyone who wants to become a more powerful presenter."

-Kathy Wetzel CIO, Texas Association of School Boards
