Are you looking for a speaker who can inspire and motivate your audience to achieve their goals and potential ? Gain insight to Royce Crown's story; a businessman, entrepreneur, father, and husband with over 30 years of experience in operating successful businesses in the hospitality and aviation industries.

Royce Crown's journey as an entrepreneur is one for the books. It all started as a young boy selling lemonade and going door-to-door to sell products. But wait, it gets better - he managed to fit into his life journey; running his own restaurant, aviation technology company, and even started a national art union lottery to support charities! And just when you thought it couldn't get any busier, he met his wife Monica in a travel competition. Talk about a power couple!

What makes Royce's story so relatable is that he has faced many of the same challenges that we all encounter in our personal and professional lives. He understands the importance of carving out time for family, facing the adversities of having and not having expectations. He's reached the high's and hit the rock bottom of low's. He's real, relatable, inspiring and motivating.

Through his experiences, Royce has learned valuable lessons that he can share with your audience. He will take them on a journey through his story, sharing insights that will inspire them to see their capabilities, no matter how small or big. Royce will motivate, inspire and lead your audience to keep going even when you feel like giving up, just as he has done throughout his life. Don't miss the opportunity to hear Royce speak and be inspired by his incredible story
