THIS IS OUR MAIN MISSION.

Assist companies with understanding the benefits of hiring from the military community by translating military experience and skills into corporate-friendly terms.

WHY?

Many companies are unaware of the incentives and benefits that come with hiring from the military community.

HOW DO WE DO THIS?

We provide workshops,
one-on-one training, resume translation, and employee resource group building or strengthening.

Available Talent

EVERY. SINGLE. YEAR.

200,000+ transition

THEY WANT A SENSE OF PURPOSE

They are used to being part of high-performing teams

WHAT THE COMMUNITY IS SAYING

My military career and the skills I picked up along the way are not the full picture. I have done so much more and am capable of more than what my title describes.

I may lack one or two of the listed qualifications, but I am highly trainable and motivated to succeed.

I struggle finding an employer willing to support my career progression. I am often underemployed and underpaid with very little mobility or flexibility.

What's In It For You?

Government Incentives for Businesses

Companies that hire from the military communities can be eligible for benefits from the federal, state, and local governments. These can come in the form of tax credits or through employee "test drives" from the Department of Defense.

Summary

A lot of companies have the right intentions, they just don't have the knowledge base to effectively employ from the military community.

Hiring Managers, and Human Resource and Talent Acquisition Professionals

We know you can read resumes, but by working with Suiting Green, we can increase your knowledge base, and help streamline your recruiting and onboarding processes.

Hollywood isn't always the military's best advocate.

Depictions of traumatized, socially inept, and potential powder keg service members have prevented employers from hiring top talent out of the military community for fear of what may happen.

You don't have to go through boot camp or basic training.

At Suiting Green, we don't expect you to be a subject matter expert on every career field, rank, or branch in the US military, but having a level of understanding can go a long way to help.

Are you looking to set your company apart from the competition?

Veterans and military spouses are hungry to make a difference in the world. They want to help organizations become better, but they need companies willing to take a chance on them.

"Military Friendly" or "Military Ready?"

Our efforts are currently focusing on companies who are wanting to not only hire top talent, but also want to get those individuals in positions where both the company and the individual can prosper.

It's time to hire smarter.
