A totally different approach to self-knowledge!

Most approaches put you on some kind of journey – some kind of seeking; whether is the search for self mastery, or self improvement.

My approach ends the journey. It ends seeking. It ends activity emanating from the ego-self and to do that, one comes to the realization that reality is nothing but an illusion. Gab brings the audience to the point where the journey ends and silence remains. In silence, something incredible happens.

Available for both online and in-person events through dialogues, conferences, and workshops!

Book Gab to speak at your next event!

Gab reaches the hearts of all. Whether you have a corporate wellbeing event, sustainability event, school or college event, mental health event, diversity and inclusion event, Gab will get you deeper – past the superficial layers that prevent you from understanding the incredible life that is.

"Truly inspiring. Deep thinker with the ability to help you look into yourself for all the answers."
