

Darieth Chisolm

TV Host | Speaker | Author | Visibility and Media Strategist

Meet Her

Darieth Chisolm is a multiple Emmy Award-winning television personality, former NBC News Anchor, entrepreneur, author, speaker and life and business coach. A visibility and media strategist with more than 25 years of experience in television and online media and entrepreneurship, she is the go-to expert for existing business owners and aspiring entrepreneurs who are looking to gain clarity and visibility and create strategic action plans that get results.

As a certified life and business coach, Darieth works with corporate professionals, coaches, experts, authors, speakers, business owners and visionaries to develop, secure, and execute an online media platform and enterprise that builds brand, influence and income. She serves as a trusted guide specifically in the areas of goal setting; entrepreneurship; money mindset; and leadership, team and relationship building to ultimately help her clients get the results they desire in business and in life.

Why Her?

Darieth serves as a dynamic emcee, host, moderator, panelist and keynote speaker for a variety of events. She is a seasoned speaker and author with expertise in personal development, success strategies, building a personal brand and business and life coaching. She is uniquely able to make learning complicated issues fun and deliver result generating content. Her ability to connect with her audience and deliver timely content leaves them feeling empowered and ready to take action. Her mission isn't just about teaching the things she's most passionate about; it's about touching people's lives. She has a love for connecting with people and watching them grow and expand their capacity for life.
